

Xometry Marketplace Enables Deeper Enterprise Integration and Smart Procurement with TradeCentric

September 15, 2026

Expanded partnership with TradeCentric brings PunchOut, Purchase Order Automation, and Invoice Automation directly into customers' existing eProcurement systems

- TradeCentric enables Xometry customers to streamline purchasing and invoicing (PunchOut, Purchase Order Automation, and Invoice Automation) directly within their existing eProcurement systems, reducing manual data entry and friction.
- The integration connects with 220+ eProcurement solutions, including Coupa, SAP Ariba, and Microsoft Dynamics, letting buyers source custom manufacturing directly through their eProcurement portal.
- According to TradeCentric data, companies that use PunchOut reduce time spent on purchase order management by 80%, freeing procurement teams to focus on higher-value work.

NORTH BETHESDA, Md., Sept. 15, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Xometry, Inc. (NASDAQ: XMTR), the global AI-native marketplace connecting buyers and suppliers of custom manufacturing, announced an expanded partnership with TradeCentric, adding Purchase Order Automation and Invoice Automation to the PunchOut capability already available between Xometry's marketplace and its customers' eProcurement systems.

TradeCentric is a leading provider of B2B eProcurement integration solutions, connecting enterprise buyers and suppliers to efficiently and securely manage orders, catalogs, and transactions. Trusted by businesses worldwide, TradeCentric simplifies the way companies transact to streamline operations and increase profitability.

PunchOut, Purchase Order Automation, and Invoice Automation: Direct From Customers' eProcurement Systems

With TradeCentric, Xometry customers can PunchOut directly into Xometry's marketplace from their eProcurement systems to seamlessly configure parts and generate a quote, then send their cart back as a requisition for internal approval and purchase order creation. Now with the expanded partnership, Xometry customers also have purchase order and invoice automation options to receive electronic invoices, eliminate manual data entry, shorten the reconciliation timeline, minimize exceptions, and improve three-way matching.

TradeCentric's integration works with all major systems, including Coupa, SAP Ariba, and Microsoft Dynamics, as well as 220+ other eProcurement solutions, ensuring orders are securely transmitted, accurate, and easy to manage across enterprise environments.

"Establishing Xometry as the digital infrastructure for custom manufacturing means meeting our customers directly within the tools and enterprise workflows they rely on every day," said Sanjeev Singh Sahni, CEO of Xometry. "Expanding our integrations with TradeCentric brings Xometry directly into our customers' existing eProcurement systems to streamline purchasing, reduce operational friction, and accelerate product development at scale."

"The seamless connection between Xometry and our procurement system has transformed how we manage our custom manufacturing orders. The ability to PunchOut to Xometry's marketplace ensures that our team can source components instantly while staying fully compliant with our internal spend workflows. We've seen an increase in productivity now that our buyers can finalize complex orders quickly, ensuring our projects stay on schedule and under budget," said Chet Bejtlich, Senior Consulting Engineer of Entegris.

"At TradeCentric, we're focused on helping organizations accelerate results by making it easier to do business with their buyers," said Elizabeth Segovia, CEO of TradeCentric. "Our collaboration with Xometry delivers intelligent eProcurement integration that empowers enterprise buyers and suppliers to connect, transact, and innovate faster. By eliminating integration complexity and operational friction, we're creating new opportunities for suppliers to drive revenue growth and efficiency at scale across the manufacturing ecosystem."

The integration is available now for Xometry customers in the U.S. and expanding to international markets. Learn more at Xometry.com or book a demo today.
