Through its partnership with Xometry, Office Depot will provide Xometry's Manufacturing Partner Network with a custom savings program featuring compelling online and in-store deals on multiple product categories, from core office supplies and break-room necessities to cleaning products and copy/print services.

"We want to help our manufacturing partners grow their business and achieve greater operating efficiency," said Bill Cronin, Chief Revenue Officer at Xometry. "Expansion of the Shop Advantage Program gives our partner shops more options for saving time and money when sourcing the products they need to run their businesses. "

"We're excited to partner with Xometry in support of the nation's small manufacturers, who make up the backbone of America's manufacturing renaissance," said Michael Littlejohn, National Program Manager at Office Depot.
